

Oh Happy Day!

Are you having a productive day? Too many days are wasted. We wake up, start our daily routine and at the end of the day what we set out to do is not completed. Similar to New Years' Resolutions.

A few months ago I did an analysis on all that was on my plate. Church, work, wife, mother, board member, business owner, TV host were just a few items on my plate, my plate runneth over. If you know anything about me you are familiar with my "road runner" type life. Every week I think of the next "great thing."

This so called self analysis was brought on by my husband telling me I needed balance. His exact words were, "Nicole, you cannot do everything." The nerve of him. After all, everything I was doing was positive, it was beneficial. I was making a difference.

Deep down I knew he was right. I was operating on nothing but Grace. Exhaustion was creeping in and about to take over.

My response was, "If I don't do it, nobody will." And to a certain extent that's true. Nobody has the passion and drive I have for the magazine. It's my baby. Nobody has the passion for your business or ministry like you. God birthed it in you, so you have that motherly instinct.

Nicole had to go back to the Father and ask for help.

Mathew 6:33 reads: But seek ye first the Kingdom of God and all His righteousness and all things will be added unto you (KJV)

Today I have a different out-look. The more I seek God for the direction of my business and for my life, the more He will add to it. Can God type articles and attend meetings for me? NO, but the word says that He will add unto me, if I seek Him first. He will send me some help (and He is doing just that).

Seek Him first!

Stay Blessed
